Customer Reviews

This book was a gift from a dear friend - Architectural Photographer Ake Eson Lindman ([...]). It was an architectural Bible during my period as a student of architecture and I am very grateful for this book, the publisher and its author. This book embodies the spirit of 'having less - and being content'. The layout of the whole book is very simple and is a good anecdote for people who are stressed out with the clutter of life and collectables. The information in the book is very graphical with approximately 250 pages of beautiful colour and black & white photographs and illustrations. Most of the images carry information about the architect / designer, Name of project, Place, Reference year, name of Photographer etc. and all this information is placed at the back of the book without cluttering the images. A wonderful book, a must have for every one on the planet who loves to make life simple and beautiful. A must have for architects & Designers.
